

BOSTON COMMON

INSIGHT

You Think You Know: BETH DICKERSON

Owner/VP Sales Associate, Gibson Sotheby's International Realty

HOMETOWN Cambridge, Maryland

FIRST HOME PURCHASED A 400-square-foot studio on Clarendon Street when I was 23

CURRENT 'HOOD Still in Back Bay, but I've upgraded from that studio.

CHARMED BY 128 Commonwealth Ave. With its white limestone façade and arched windows, it's so Parisian.

HOME FEELS LIKE HOME WHEN It's filled with whatever makes the individual happy—whether that's color, furniture or sunlight. For me, it's color and warmth.

TASTE IN DÉCOR Casual chic. That also describes my fashion sense.

COFFEE COMPANION My Westie, Hazel Mae. She's a regular at Starbucks with me.

CURRENT PRICES The averages are $700 per square foot in the South End, $850 in Beacon Hill and $875 in Back Bay.

BROOKE SHIELDS
STILL TURNING HEADS

SAY UNCLE

Tucked between antique shops and prepster stores, Uncle Pete's features a hip, edgy mix of menswear and womenswear in a relaxed, Soho-like atmosphere. Rag & Bone, Vena Cava, YMC, Bing Bang, Nice Collective and Commes des Garçons are just a few of the brands that proprietor (and namesake) Peter Tam sells in this new, well-edited space. 125 Charles St.; unclepetesshop.com

FROM LEFT: Vena Cava; Rag & Bone